Anzère Liberty

We see that the change in the functioning of Anzère Liberté has been well received and that the digitization and the use of QR-codes have been successfully adopted by all.

The transition to a digital solution and the use of QR-codes offer many advantages such as better data traceability. This traceability will allow us to ensure its continuity and to offer lasting advantages to the community of secondary residents and to our holidaymakers who also pay a tourist tax. This autumn we will provide you with all the information relating to Anzère Liberté 2024 so that you can plan your visits to Anzère in advance and thus take full advantage of what our beautiful region has to offer.

We still have so much more information to share with you, that we'd like to indicate that a part of the www.anzere.ch website is specially dedicated to you: the owners area. Naturally, we are also delighted to welcome you to the tourist office or to meet on one of the many highlights of this second part of the summer.

See you soon in Anzère,

Stephanie Dijkman, director of Anzère Tourisme and her entire team.

We are of course at your disposal.
